

Homeowners Association Member

You are on the Homeowners Association board of an upper-class neighborhood. Your association can order neighborhood-wide water restrictions and can serve as an information platform for the homeowners.

Property Manager

You manage three apartment buildings. You must direct your renters to cut back on their water consumption when water restrictions are in place.

Active Retiree

You live by a lake in a house that you bought for retirement. Boating and fishing with your grandson are your favorite outdoor activities.

Homeowner

You own a two-story home in an upper-class neighborhood on the edge of town. Recently, you have noticed your lawn is particularly dry.

Parent

You are a parent of four kids. Your daily habits, including washing dishes and taking baths, can be impacted if water restrictions are set by the town. You want enough clean water for your family.

Rancher

You raise cattle. Your annual income depends on the availability of feed so the cattle can eventually be sold for maximum profit.

Deputy Director of Parks & Recreation

You work for Parks & Recreation as the deputy director. Your role includes managing the development of parks, organizing youth development activities, and overseeing recreation centers.

Principal

You are the principal at McGraw High School, which has 2,500 students. You are responsible for maintaining a safe environment for your students.

Wildlife Conservation Fund Representative

You work for an environmental NGO that specializes in projects to improve wildlife habitat.

Youth Group Leader

You are a mentor for a school youth group that practices different forms of leadership in high schools. Currently, these students are starting a campaign on resource sustainability and its importance.

School Board Member

You are a school board member for the local schools. You have two children of your own in a local school. You want the best education as well as a safe environment for the students.

Church Pastor

You are a pastor at a church in your village. People often come to you for advice related to their everyday problems. You also organize many community activities.

Game & Parks Warden

You work as a game warden for the state's Game & Parks. You have a background in wildlife biology and you coordinate the wildlife rescues throughout the state recreation areas.

Public Health Manager

You are a public health manager for the city's department of health. You oversee the non-clinical operations of a public health organization, such as hospitals or the health department.

Water Resources Technician

You work on projects for a local water district that deal with water resources monitoring, water demand analysis and construction, or resource management.

Natural Resources Outreach Specialist

You work for the Department of Natural Resources. You are in charge of communication services. You often communicate with small communities in the region that are dependent on surface and groundwater.

Scientist

You are a university employee with a research and extension appointment. Your main interests are agriculture, soil health and water management.

USDA Farmworker Coordination Program Manager

You work in the Department of Agriculture and advocate for the many needs of the farmers in the area. You work with employees of many different organizations, including soil scientists, climatologists, and meteorologists.

Mayor

You are the mayor, and since you are the highest ranked official in the municipal government of the city, you delegate many tasks and make big decisions for your city in collaboration with the governor.

Governor

You are the governor of the state and make many significant decisions regarding the state's natural resources.

Water Manager

You are a water manager for the city of Belcoast. You are responsible for creating the water management plan. You also serve on other environmental planning boards.

City Council Member

You are a Bridgelynn city council member. Together with other members you approve or disapprove of different regulations throughout the city.

Lawyer

You are an environmental lawyer who deals with certain property rights in court. You have done work with appropriations to farmers along different rivers.

Tribal Chairman

You are the chief executive of your tribe. You collaborate with surrounding states to ensure your community's environmental and social needs and challenges are met.

Medical Professional

You are an emergency medical technician (EMT) who is a quick problem-solver when lives are at stake. You are capable of being ready for emergency calls at any time.

Emergency Manager

You are an emergency manager that manages communication between witnesses and/or victims and the medical or fire team. You are good at making very quick and tough decisions.

Firefighter

You are a professional firefighter. Your department relies on water to keep people safe from fire. You often have to help other districts with fast-spreading wildfires.

National Guard Emergency Management Specialist

You develop, manage and execute the EM programs, ensuring effective prevention, protection, mitigation, response, and recovery operations.

Volunteer Emergency Organization Chair

You are a leader of a volunteer organization that helps small communities to secure access to clean water.

Volunteer Firefighter

You are a volunteer firefighter in a small town. You coordinate with neighboring towns in case of fire or rescue missions.

TV Reporter

You are a reporter for a local news station and you mostly report on local affairs, the weather, and current environmental issues or innovations.

Energy Company Public Relations Specialist

You work for the local electric company, specializing in public relations. Besides other responsibilities, your job is to set up education outreach opportunities concerning conservation practices.

Marina Owner

You own a marina at a lake just north of town. You rent boats and campground spots at the lake. You need good water quantity and quality to stay in business.

Environmental Monitoring Company Manager

You are a manager of a company that monitors water levels, contaminate concentrations, and other environmental factors.

Well Driller

You drill wells on rural and urban properties that bring water in from groundwater reservoirs. You spend most of your time working outdoors and are used to manual labor.

Insurance Company CEO

You are a CEO of an insurance company that specializes in agriculture. You work with many local ranchers and farmers.