Eastern Gateway Community College

2024 Commencement Address Speaker

Friday Evening Ceremony

Dr. Ken Knox held multiple positions with Eastern Gateway Community College for nearly 20 years.

He retired as Professor of Management and has served as program director, assessment coordinator, and most notably was Interim Vice President of Academic Affairs and Chief Academic Officer the last time the college received full accreditation by the Higher Learning Commission in 2016. Ken and his wife, Pam, endowed the Knox Family Scholarship to support Business Management students on the Steubenville and Youngstown campuses.

He was Provost and Chief Academic Officer at Salem University and is currently a Visiting Professor of Business at Franciscan University of Steubenville.

The author of two books, Dr. Knox has spoken across the United States and abroad on topics such as managing organizational change, strategic planning, leadership succession, and personal development.

Prior to his career in higher education, Ken and Pam owned several supermarkets and convenience stores.

Ken and Pam live in St. Clairsville. They have five grown children and nine grandchildren.

Eastern Gateway Community College

2024 Commencement Address Speaker

Saturday Morning Ceremony

Dr. Edward L. Florak, President Emeritus of Jefferson Community College, served as the College's second president from 1985 through December 1998.

Dr. Florak began his career at the Jefferson County Technical Institute in July 1971, serving the students and community under Jefferson Technical College, Jefferson Community College, and Eastern Gateway Community College. His many roles included vice president of instructional services, student services and administrative services and implementation team member for the college expansion. He is a Charter Trustee and has played an important part in the development and implementation of the Jefferson Community College Foundation, Inc. now serving on the Board of Directors for Eastern Gateway Community College Foundation, supporting the College and its students.

He holds a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Villanova University, a master's degree, and doctorate in counselor education from the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Florak is a retired licensed psychologist in the state of Ohio Board of Psychology and served as a consultant to the Family Services Association in Steubenville.

Dr. Florak served as president of the Jefferson County United Way Board of Directors and general campaign chairman. He is a member of the Community Improvement Corporation Board of Directors. Also, he served as a member of the Jefferson County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and the Jefferson County Industrial Park Blue Ribbon Committee, the WIND Committee for economic development, and the Jefferson County Port Authority. He was a member of the Ohio Student Loan Commission, serving one year as chairman. He is past president of Steubenville Kiwanis and has held membership in the American Management Association, American Counseling Association, Ohio Psychological Association, and the American Psychological Association.

Dr. Florak was chosen as one of America's Community Heroes and represented Jefferson County in carrying the Olympic Torch through Ohio during ceremonies in June 1996. He received the Art Bartell Award from the Wintersville Chamber of Commerce and was named Executive of the Year by the Steubenville Professional Secretaries.

A resident of Steubenville, Dr. Florak and his late wife, Barbara, raised three sons, Michael of Steubenville, Mark of Atlanta, and Tim of Columbus. Additionally, there are four grandchildren in the next generation of the family.

The Symbols of Learning

The commencement procession today, in this country and abroad, is a pageant, alive and bright with the dress and ceremony inherited from the medieval universities of the 11th and 12th centuries.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages - with Bologna and Paris, Oxford and Cambridge, Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Louvain - first in the Church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, where the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master and the dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The dress made visible, in color and pattern, the unity of men of like purpose. Twelfth century records of Oxford University carry this justification for academic dress: “It is honourable and in accordance with reason that clerks to whom God has given an advantage of the lay folk in their adornments within, should likewise differ from the lay folk outwardly in dress.”

The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown.

The flowing gown comes from the 12th century. Many think it was worn in olden times as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing underneath. It is black with pointed sleeves for the Bachelor's Degree; long, closed sleeves for the Master's Degree, with a slit for the arm; and round open sleeves for the Doctor's degree. The gown worn for Bachelor's or Master's Degrees has no trimmings. The gown for the Doctorate degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains.

The Cap.

The freed slave in Ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book, although some authorities claim that the mortar board is the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild.

The Symbols of Learning

The Hood.

Heraldically, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the institute or college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the institution from which the degree was granted.

The cap and gown used by the recipient of the Associate Degree are charcoal colored, accented with black sleeve trim and yoke tabs. The hood is designed with the institution colors in a V chevron.

College Emblems

Some of the students participating in today's commencement ceremony are wearing emblems which recognize their academic achievements.

Gold or Silver Medallion.

Students who have maintained a 3.5 or above grade average received a silver medallion at the Honors Convocation in recognition of outstanding academic achievement. Students who have achieved a 3.9 to 4.0 grade point average were awarded a gold medallion.

Gold Tassel and Stole.

The gold tassel and stole denotes membership in Phi Theta Kappa, the Two Year International Honor Society.

All students displaying these emblems of accomplishment as part of their graduation regalia deserve a hearty congratulations.

College Mace.

The origination of the mace dates back to medieval times when it was used as a weapon. Medieval European bishops forbidden the use of the sword were allowed to enter battle with a mace, often an iron or steel club designed to split armor. By the 16th century, the mace, a symbol of authority, was embraced as a ceremonial object by colleges and universities. Traditionally, the mace is carried as part of formal academic occasions by the Grand Marshal.

The mace of Eastern Gateway Community College was designed by Nelson Fine Arts & Gifts in Steubenville, Ohio. The mace is fifty-three inches long and sculpted from walnut. The colors at the base of the mace are red and gold representing the colors of Jefferson Technical Institute and Jefferson Community College. The upper portion of the mace features the colleges official seal and colors, which represent the five core values.

Student Government Association Stole.

Members of the Student Government Association are designated by a royal blue stole with pointed ends and white trim. The logo of the Student Government Association appears in white on the left side of the stole. If a student was an officer (President, Vice President, or Secretary), it is embroidered on the opposite side of the stole.

Student Ambassador Honors Cords.

Students who have successfully completed the Student Ambassador leadership development program earn cords to wear at graduation. Students wearing a single honors cord with the school colors of blue and green intertwined are graduates of the Student Ambassador program.
