Aims and Scope

The Journal of Gynecologic Oncology (JGO) is an official publication of the Asian Society of Gynecologic Oncology. Abbreviated title is 'J Gynecol Oncol'. It was launched in 1990. The JGO's aim is to publish the highest quality manuscripts dedicated to the advancement of care of the patients with gynecologic cancer. It is an international peer-reviewed periodical journal that is published bimonthly (January, March, May, July, September, and November). Supplement numbers are at times published. The journal publishes editorials, original and review articles, correspondence, book review, etc.

Research areas covered by this journal include: epidemiology, prevention, diagnosis, treatment strategies including surgery, chemotherapy, radiotherapy, or combined therapy, clinical trials, quality of life issues, and basic research genetics, immunology, 'omics', as well as research from any of the related disciplines.

The JGO is indexed/tracked/covered by MEDLINE, PubMed, PubMed Central (PMC), KoreaMed, Synapse, KoMCI, Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE, Web of Science), Chemical Abstracts Service (CAS), SCOPUS, EMBASE and Google Scholar.

The Journal of Gynecologic Oncology (JGO), the official journal of the Asian Society of Gynecologic Oncology and the Korean Society of Gynecologic Oncology, publishes the highest quality manuscripts dedicated to gynecologic oncology. Because of the nature of the journal, we think it is important to study using data from Asian region such as epidemiological data. JGO prefers studies of Asian epidemiologic data. Published six times per year online only, the journal aims at publishing evidence-based, scientifically written articles, including original articles, review articles, selected editorials, etc.

JGO has the online submission and editorial system. Manuscripts should be submitted online at <http://www.editorialmanager.com/jgynecoloncol>.

Authors who are unable to submit online and have objections to the submission process and peer review results should contact the Editorial Office.
