Session Q & A

Q. My article was already published in a Chinese journal. Is it possible that the article with expanded population is published in JGO again?

A. (Dong Hoon Suh) It is possible. However, additional analysis and novel results may be needed to publish.

Q. English proofing is always a problem to Chinese.

A. (Miseon Kim) It is the same for almost Korean. You'd be better to use commercial proofing service.

Q. How about "Mentor-Mentee system" in Korea? Tell me your real experience.

A. (Jeong-Yeol Park) Usually, senior professors in same institution become mentors for their fellows or junior staffs in Korea. I have also been learning from senior professors in my institution about clinical trial design, progression, and writing a manuscript.
