VOLUME 72 NUMBER 11

FROM RABBI HAYON

I hope that the days that lie between us and a new Jewish year will bring many opportunities for us to reflect seriously on the ways we may better ourselves in the year 5779.

This year, August 12th is the first day of the Hebrew month of Elul. Elul is traditionally understood to be the beginning of the High Holy Day season.

But there is no need to start shopping for apples and honey just yet; Elul invites us to undertake internal, rather than external, preparation for the holidays.

It scarcely bears repeating that ours is a hyper-connected world, where we can remain firmly and instantly connected with friends and family all over the world. The omnipresence of digital technology and social media means that we can contact virtually anyone we have ever known, at virtually any time, for virtually any reason. Most times this is a great benefit – we can reconnect with long-lost friends, do business with colleagues and clients all around the world, and access nearly the entirety of human knowledge with little more than a few keystrokes. But of course there are times when the ease of virtual interaction inhibits us from living our best spiritual lives.

If you regularly spend time on social media, you probably have experienced a relatively recent phenomenon that has

Message to the Congregation August 2018

As we embark on this sacred journey together, with the excitement of our congregation's 75th anniversary on the horizon, one of my aspirational goals is that every congregant finds their place.

Rodney Roth

The opportunities are endless as we offer a broad spectrum of programs and service committee opportunities that hopefully peak everyone's interests. Judaism is a beautiful religion that combines spirituality and the study of torah with the tenants of education and the practice of mitzvot. I would like to promote a community that is not only warm and welcoming but one that is also inclusive of new ideas, the pursuit of understanding now become ubiquitous in the Jewish world: the “Facebook apology.” “Facebook apologies” are the now-common practice of issuing generic and blanket apologies to one’s whole social network. They are easy to identify in social media posts, generally beginning with phrases like “To anyone I have offended, I am truly sorry...” or “If I have hurt you over the past year, I apologize...” Those who issue “Facebook apologies” do so, I believe, because they offer a relatively safe and easy way to fulfill this Jewish season’s mandate to acknowledge one’s missteps and apologize for them. Jewish tradition and our sages’ teachings caution us, however, against using this particular technique to effect the work of repentance as the High Holy Days approach.

The great Rabbi Moses Maimonides, in his 12th century masterwork the Mishneh Torah, is careful to stipulate that while one is free to acknowledge publicly that one has sinned, one’s work of apology and restitution must be undertaken personally and directly with the people one has hurt. This teaching is especially salient in our current day, when the ease of digital communication makes it simple for us to symbolically perform our apologies online while avoiding the more difficult – and far more important – act of connecting openly with those whom we have wronged in order to seek their forgiveness.

The month of Elul is nearly here, and the High Holy Days are close behind. I hope that the days that lie between us and a new Jewish year will bring many opportunities for us to reflect seriously on the ways we may better ourselves in the year 5779. Only by willingly accepting their invitation for self-reflection, and only by bravely reaching out personally to those we have hurt during 5778, can we move our own souls toward a higher spiritual rung and our community toward a more humble and compassionate future.

and planning for a robust future.

My personal spiritual reconnection and introduction to volunteerism started seven years ago when I was approached by Myra Lipper to plan a fundraising golf tournament for the congregation. It was a novel concept that was not only a success, but, inspired congregants to volunteer and participate in this community for the first time, and it was truly exciting for me to witness. This was the beginning of something very meaningful and fulfilling that has led me down this sacred journey to ultimately leading this congregation.

While I personally have enjoyed every second, here is your chance to also reconnect and find something that may interest you. We have numerous committees and subcommittees that are in need of new faces, ideas, and leadership. Here is the list of committees and a brief explanation of their roles and responsibilities. If you have any interest or would like additional information, please call or email David Lamden at dlamden@emanuelhouston.org. Like the old expression goes,

“when you volunteer, you vote every day about the kind of community you want to live in.”

- ADULT EDUCATION – Assists temple’s education staff and clergy in their work to provide meaningful, relevant and fulfilling experiences of adult Jewish learning for our members and the larger community.
- BROTHERHOOD – Focused on programming for the congregation, the Brotherhood plans fundraisers that benefit the congregation, social events and other fun activities.
- BUDGET & FINANCE – This committee oversees the finances of the congregation and has several components. The finance committee meets three or four times each year during the non-budget cycle to review finances, assist the professional staff and make recommendations. The budget committee, which is typically many of the same people, works on the congregational budget each year in three or four meetings (typically December – March) in conjunction with the staff. The audit committee is involved with the annual audit each year and has two or three meetings.
- BUILDING, GROUNDS & SECURITY – This overarching committee oversees the building and grounds of our beautiful congregation and also includes a security subcommittee. The security subcommittee typically meets three or four times each year and the building and grounds work is year-round, but rarely in the form of regular meetings. The group convenes as projects need expertise and attention.
- CEMETERY – One of the Emanu El’s shining stars is Emanu El Memorial Park (EEMP). The cemetery committee sets policy and oversees the care of our beautiful property on Bissonnet St. Meetings of the cemetery committee are typically monthly.
- EARLY CHILDHOOD – Supports the work of the Becker School as well as programmatic offerings – including worship, learning, and community-building – for children younger than kindergarten.
- INCLUSION – We continually work to make sure that our building is accessible to all people, regardless of any physical limitations. The Inclusion Committee meets a few times each year to focus on areas that may require adjustment or improvement.
- INVESTMENT – The investment committee manages and monitors the investments of the congregation including the endowment and EEMP perpetual care fund. They meet quarterly.
- ISRAEL – Assists with logistical support for the Shirley Barish Memorial Israel Experience trip, and works with program staff to plan and implement educational, cultural, religious and political programming that promote Emanu El’s warm and longstanding relationship with the Jewish State.

- LEADERSHIP – This committee plans training for new Board Members each year. It also works to identify and build a pipeline of future leaders for the congregation by running a Leadership Academy. This committee typically meets three or four times each year for planning purposes.
- LEGACY – This group is working to increase the number of congregational families who are part of our Leave a Jewish Legacy program. The ultimate goal is to have families leave Congregation Emanu El in their end-of-life giving plans. There are typically a few meetings each year, plus a few community trainings.
- MANAGEMENT & PERSONNEL – This group meets a few times each year, plus when there are personnel matters that need to be considered. They also work on projects such as updating the Personnel Handbook and reviewing benefits available to staff.
- MEMBERSHIP & OUTREACH – This committee is focused on recruiting, welcoming and maintaining a strong membership within the congregation. Meetings are typically three or four times each year, plus participation in various membership-based events.
- RELIGIOUS SCHOOL COMMITTEE – Focused on how to grow and improve the Helfman Religious School program, the Religious School Committee meets through the year to both create and support programming in the school.
- RITUAL & MUSIC – This committee provides a safe and supportive place for members of the clergy to explore and evaluate our religious and musical offerings, and assists in the setting of policy for prayer, life-cycle and Shabbat/holiday services. Members of this committee are added by invitation.
- SISTERHOOD – The Emanu El Sisterhood has a longstanding history of providing outstanding programming and fundraising and works to build strong relationships with the women of Emanu El.
- SOCIAL ACTION – Social Action has been a vital part of Emanu El’s identity and our mission to the larger community. This committee works with temple staff and assists in the strategy, planning and evaluation of programs for education, advocacy and volunteerism to uphold the Jewish values that underpin our congregation’s holy work.

With your feedback, we will be launching a new leadership committee, lead by our immediate past President Jeff Basen-Enquist. The purpose of the committee is to identify and cultivate new potential leaders. The future success of this congregation not only depends on our committees functioning at a high level but also having a strong and thoughtful succession plan in place. Please be a part of this exciting community as we prepare for our 75th and beyond.

– Rodney Roth, President

We encourage you to offer the guest passes to anyone who might like to attend a single High Holy Day service. Please note that these passes may not be used on Kol Nidre. We accept passes from other congregations and also welcome armed services personnel, college students with ID, and out-of-town patients receiving treatment in the Texas Medical Center, along with their families. If you know someone who has moved to Houston within the last six months, please contact Jill Kaplan at (713) 529-5771 or JillK@emanuelhouston.org to arrange for a newcomer pass.

GOING OUT OF TOWN FOR HIGH HOLY DAYS? LET US HELP YOU!

Will you be out of town for Rosh HaShanah and/or Yom Kippur? Through our affiliation with the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ), our Congregation enjoys "reciprocity" with hundreds of synagogues nationally.

Please contact the synagogue office at (713) 529-5771 to speak to a member of the synagogue staff about reciprocity. You can also e-mail Jill Kaplan at JillK@emanuelhouston.org or Jason Plotkin at jasonp@emanuelhouston.org. We will work with our partner synagogues to ensure your seat at your destination synagogue.

PARKING

Only individuals with High Holy Days passes or handicap placards will be allowed entry to the Emanu El campus. All parking on Floors 1 and 2 of the Gaylor Parking Facility will be reserved for handicap-accessible use. The West Lot is reserved for Rabbi's Circle members with a required pass. Because there is limited garage parking on Floors 3 and 4, we encourage you to park at satellite locations. Buses will run continually from the satellite parking lots to and from Emanu El.

For Erev Rosh HaShanah and Kol Nidre, park at the Medical Clinic of Houston, 1707 Sunset. The parking garage entrance is on Rice Blvd. On Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur Day, park at Rice University. Due to construction on the west side of the Rice campus, we will use the Rice South Stadium Lot (with overflow in the Greenbriar Lot). A special entrance to the South Stadium Lot will be open between Gates 8 and 9, specifically for our Emanu El guests. This entry point is located off University Blvd. between Montclair and Stockton. Please note that the construction project on Greenbriar between Holcombe and University will still be in progress during the High Holy Days and guests are encouraged to avoid Greenbriar from south of University.

CHILD CARE

Child care for children aged 15 months to 8 years is available during all High Holy Day services, with the exception of the 5:30 p.m. Rosh HaShanah service. Registration and advance payment MUST be received so that we can prepare for the appropriate number of caregivers. The cost is $10 per service per child. A light

The Book of Memory will be distributed on Yom Kippur afternoon as worshipgoers return to the Barish Sanctuary for Hineini: Confessions and Comfort for Today's World.

HIGH HOLY DAY BOOK NAMEPLATES

This coming year will be the second in which we have utilized Mishkan NaNefesh, the Reform Movement's new prayer books for the High Holy Days. The books based on the post-High Holy Day survey were very well received.

Congregants have an opportunity to dedicate individual volumes (or sets) in honor or in memory of those who are dear to us. Information on purchasing nameplates can be found online at EmanuElHouston.org or by calling the synagogue at (713) 529-5771. To insure that the nameplates are in the books ahead of the High Holy Days, we ask that you return your form or fill it out online by Friday, August 17th.

A Letter from Stefani Carlson

As I write this message, I am still feeling the excitement of having spent the last four weeks in Poland and Israel with 26 of our rising 11th and 12th graders on the Shirley Barish Memorial Israel Experience.

Each day of this amazing journey was filled with learning and laughter – and some tears – as we relived more than 1,000 years of Jewish history through visits to sites as ancient as the tunnels beneath the Temple Mount and as modern as Warsaw's brand-new POLIN Museum of the History of Polish Jews, and looked to a bright Jewish future through visits with members of the Krakow JCC and countless Israeli innovators.

Along the way, we built strong bonds of community between students, faculty and clergy, upon which we look forward to building in the school year to come.

We were fortunate to be joined by several visitors on our journey, as well, two of which gave our students glimpses into what their own Jewish futures might hold: Helfman alumna Noa Gutow-Ellis met with us in Krakow, where she is interning at the Galicia Jewish Museum, and SBMIE14 alumni Aaron Feldstein and Adam Dreyfus took time out of their Masa Israel internships to meet us for dinner in Jerusalem.

The group was particularly glad to meet up with David Barish twice during our time in Israel: for lunch and a tour of the Roman ruins at Caesaria, and for a visit to the Armored Corps Museum at Latrun and our closing drum circle and dinner in Abu Gosh.

We cannot begin to express our gratitude to the Barish family, whose generosity makes this transformative experience possible for our students.

As powerful as the Shirley Barish Memorial Israel Experience is, the trip is only one of many chapters in the stories that our Helfman Religious School students write during their time in our school.

This coming year, as our congregation prepares to celebrate its 75th anniversary, we will be encouraging our students and families to tell "Our Emanu El Stories" in many different ways. From Consecration to Graduation, B'nei Mitzvah to Confirmation, Second Grade Torah Project to Fourth Grade Wedding, and everything in between, we look forward to celebrating together the milestones, big and small, that frame our stories and build our community.

The best stories blend the familiar with the new. Our plans for the coming Religious School year do the same. We are excited to welcome back many beloved teachers and programs, and to introduce a few new ones as well. We are thrilled to be continuing our partnership with the Institute for Southern Jewish Life (ISJL) for curriculum and program support, and to be building on last year's success with Hebrew Through Movement for grades PK-2 by expanding to 3rd grade. Our 4-6 graders will have the opportunity to learn in some new ways this year, also, as we prepare to introduce a Chugim (electives) program on Sunday mornings.

For the last half hour of each session, students will be able to select from mini-courses taught by our faculty and clergy, including Youth Choir, small-group Hebrew, Technology/Coding, and a "Taste" track of our classic specials (art, music, Israeli dance and cooking).

Our 2018-19 Helfman Religious School story begins on Sunday, August 26th with an Open House. Class lists will be posted, and our faculty and ISJL fellow will be on hand to greet our students and their families.

Come and meet your children's teachers and the families of their classmates! Classes for students in PK-7th grade will begin on Sunday, September 14th (the Sunday between Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur); Midweek Hebrew School for grades 4-6 and Upper School for grades 8-12 will begin after the fall holidays, on Wednesday, October 3rd.

If you have not yet registered, it's not too late – please visit www.emanuelhouston.org or contact Gail Shapiro at gails@emanuelhouston.org for more information or to register.

Many of our most beloved stories are those not written in books, but passed down orally from generation to generation. If you have a story to tell, or a question to ask, please do not hesitate to contact me. I can be reached by phone at (713) 535-6400, ext. 251, by email at stefanic@emanuelhouston.org, or in person – my door is always open. I'd love to hear your story!

YOUNG FAMILY NEWS

Tot Shabbat 2.0 Launches Friday, August 3rd

After hearing feedback and suggestions, we are excited to announce the relaunch of Tot Shabbat. The first Tot Shabbat 2.0 will take place on Friday, August 3rd at 5:45 p.m.

In an effort to emulate the Shabbat experience at home, we will begin each dinner by joining together as one big congregational family at 5:45 p.m. to recite the traditional Shabbat blessings over the challah, candles and juice and then allowing time for everyone to eat before the service begins at 6:30 p.m.

The dinner for August will feature Star Pizza and a "create your own salad" bar. The cost is just $10 for adults and $5 for children.

While we will be serving kid-friendly food, we also welcome you to bring your own dinner and join us if that makes it easier to accommodate your family's specific dietary needs.

Starting in August, we will also have blessing cards available on the tables to make it easy to follow along. We encourage you to take a set of these cards home to help foster teachable moments at your own Shabbat tables. A short and sweet dessert oneg will immediately follow services. As we continue to improve our Tot Shabbat experience, we hope you'll recognize all the different ways we are working to make this a meaningful, vibrant and engaging experience for ages kids 0-6.

Please note that due to final High Holy Day preparations around the building, the September Tot Shabbat on Friday, September 7th begins at 6:00 p.m. and there will not be a dinner option. Dinner resumes ahead of our October Tot Shabbat on Friday, October 5th.

Calling Young Families! Emanu El Seeks Tot Shabbat Hosts

Are you looking for a way to get more involved? Do your kids want to lead blessings at Friday night services? Is your son or daughter having a birthday and you'd like to honor them in a unique way? The first Friday of each month we are pleased to have a special Tot Shabbat service, geared towards families with little ones ages 0-6.

Each Tot Shabbat presents a rare opportunity for families to interact with each other and get to know our clergy on a more personal level. Each month, Emanu El extends the privilege of hosting a Tot Shabbat to our Young Families who may be interested in becoming more involved.

We also invite you to pair up with other families and host as a cohort if that's what you'd prefer. For more information on hosting responsibilities and what this may entail, contact Jill Kaplan at (713) 529-5771, ext. 262 or JillK@emanuelhouston.org.

Congregation Emanu El and the Rice University's Kinder Institute for Urban Research are partnering to host "Hurricane Harvey, A Year Later: Moment of Decision" on Wednesday, August 22nd at 6:30 p.m. at Emanu El, 1500 Sunset Blvd.

Members of the community are invited to join Fulton as he gives a high-level presentation reviewing what Houston has done and what could possibly be done moving forward post-Harvey to prevent a similar episode from happening.

Following Fulton's presentation, there will be an opportunity for members of the audience to ask questions.

Fulton has served as the Director of the Kinder Institute for Urban Research at Rice University since 2014. He is a former mayor of Ventura, California and director of planning and economic development for the city of San Diego.

In his career, Fulton has also served as vice president for policy at Smart Growth America, principal in the California-based urban planning firm now known as PlaceWorks and senior fellow at the Sol Price School of Public Policy at the University of Southern California.

Religious organizations have often been tapped for support after natural disasters; and following Hurricane Harvey, they are increasingly in the public eye and judged for their ability to respond quickly.

Emanu El Program Director Jason Plotkin is one of a trio of representatives along with Paula Pipes of Pipes Research & Consulting and Omar Samji of the Ismaili Council for the Southwestern USA that will serve as expert panelists for the evening. The group will address how faith communities have assisted with continued Harvey recovery efforts as well as how they are preparing for future disasters.

Framed by relevant social science research on disasters and religion, this will be a conversation on preparing for and executing disaster relief through the lens of faith. For more information, visit rplp.rice.edu. The panel will be moderated by Elaine Howard Ecklund of Rice University.

Cleaning the Headstone of a Loved One

As the High Holy Days near, many of us plan visits to our loved ones who are no longer living, including during the Cemetery Memorial Service, which takes place on Sunday, September 16th at 5:00 p.m.

Before the service, or at any point throughout the year, you may want to take special care of your loved one's grave, particularly cleaning the headstone. Cleaning the headstone is fairly simple and straightforward, and just one of the ways that we fulfill the mitzvah of kavod hamet, respect for the dead. We've provided simple steps and explanations below to help guide you.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED:

- Medium bristle brush for scrubbing
- Garden hose (stored at Emanu El Memorial Park)
- Spray bottle filled with 50/50 mix of bleach and water OR spray bottle with water only if anything is affixed to the stone (porcelain picture, Holocaust survivor medal, etc.)

STEP 1: Soak headstone with garden hose. If there is mud on the headstone, scrub it down with the brush.

STEP 2: Spray with bleach mix and let sit for a few minutes. Then scrub the stone softly with scrub brush.

STEP 3: Rinse with garden hose. Bleach mix will likely splash, so keep that in mind and wear clothing that you don't mind if they get bleached or ruined.

For those who are planning to visit Emanu El Memorial Park before the Cemetery Service, we will leave all of the garden hoses out on the two Sundays prior (September 2nd and 9th). If you are planning to visit and clean headstones at another time, please just let Alisha Klapholz know (alishak@emanuelhouston.org, (713) 529-5771, ext. 213 and we will ask the caretaker to leave a garden hose out for you.

Emanu El Receives Scientists in the Synagogue Grant

Rebecca Lunstroth (left) and Rabbi Oren Hayon (right) attended a conference about the “Scientists in the Synagogue” grant the synagogue recently received. Emanu El is one of a dozen synagogues across the country to receive the grant. The duo is pictured with Rabbi Marcia Plumb a conference held in New York that brought all the synagogues that received the grant together. More information on programming tied into this grant to be announced soon.

Congregation Emanu El Archives Seeks Documents, Photos Ahead of 75th Anniversary

As Congregation Emanu El approaches its 75th anniversary celebration in 2019, a group of lay members and staff are actively working on projects related to this milestone in the congregation’s life.

Photos and documents from archives will be utilized at various programs throughout the anniversary celebration, on the web site and as part of a social media campaign later this year.

If any members of the congregation or community have items they would like to donate to the congregation’s archive, please contact Maxine Reingold at archives@emanuelhouston.org or Jason Plotkin at (713) 535-6414 or jasonp@emanuelhouston.org.

New Roof Installation Underway; Two Parking Areas Impacted During Project

The installation of the new roof began the week of July 22nd. The most significant impact on our congregants will be the closure of the small parking lot adjacent to the Proler Chapel and the parking spaces behind the temporary buildings – primarily utilized for ‘accessible parking’ – during the duration of this project. These areas will be used by our roofing company for their needs throughout the installation including, but not limited to storage of materials.

Adult Hebrew

Hebrew is for you! Whether you're an absolute beginner or seeking to improve your ability to read more proficiency, we have two great year-long Hebrew classes beginning in late September. For those who know the Hebrew alphabet and are seeking to increase their reading fluency and ability to participate more actively in services, the intermediate level class meets on Sundays from 9:00-10:30 a.m. Both classes are taught by Nomi Barancik, a skillful and experienced instructor of adult Hebrew.

Contact Donna in Rabbi Silk's office at (713) 529-5771, ext. 212 or DonnaF@emanuelhouston.org for more information and to register. A $180 fee applies.

Basic Judaism

Ever wonder why we light two candles for Shabbat? Curious why the Hebrew bible is called the Tanach? Need a refresher in Jewish history, theology, or ritual practice? Join us for Basic Judaism, an engaging class taught by our clergy team for anyone seeking to learn more about Judaism. A start date will be announced shortly for the Sunday morning class. Contact Donna in Rabbi Silk's office at (713) 529-5771, ext. 212 or DonnaF@emanuelhouston.org for more information and to register.

Dr. Joshua Furman | 10 Sessions
October 8th–December 17th

Sustainable Eating: What Your Jewish Mother Never Told You

Ms. Nancy Pryzant Picus | 10 Sessions
January 28th – April 1, 2019

This course will explore food-related issues through the lens of Jewish values and Jewish texts. Topics will include kashrut (Jewish dietary laws), food justice, vegetarianism and veganism, sustainability, blessings, and more.

Resilience: In Search of an Ancient Virtue

Rabbi David Segal | 6 Sessions
April 8th – May 13, 2019

What does it take to find a new normal after a trying time? We all carry stories of tragedy and rebuilding, from personal hardships to communal suffering. In the books of Lamentations, Ecclesiastes and Job, we find many diverse and authentically human responses to suffering. What can these ancient writings teach us about surviving struggle and loss – and even finding joy?

Our clergy want to know . . .

If you or a loved one is sick or hospitalized please let us know.

Contact the synagogue at (713) 529-5771, so that our rabbis can reach out and visit and be a source of strength and support.

Visiting the sick and praying for those who are ill are important and meaningful mitzvot.

We appreciate the thoughtfulness of those who remember and honor their friends and loved ones through their generous contributions.
