I. AUTHORITY

Authority: Idaho Code § 67-833

Idaho statute states in part, "the Idaho Technology Authority (ITA) shall:

Prepare statewide short-range and long-range information technology and telecommunications systems plans to meet the needs of state agencies;

Within the context of its strategic plans, establish statewide information technology and telecommunications policies, standards, guidelines, conventions, and comprehensive risk assessment criteria that will assure uniformity and compatibility of such systems within state agencies."

II. ABSTRACT

The State of Idaho is dedicated to protecting private information it may collect about its citizens and others from unauthorized access and dissemination in concert with state and federal laws dealing with personal privacy. In order to guarantee a consistent statement of that responsibility, ITA has issued this policy with the accompanying Idaho.Gov Portal Privacy Notice.

III. DEFINITIONS

See ITA Guideline G105 (Glossary of Terms) for any definitions.

IV. POLICY

The following Idaho.Gov Portal Privacy Notice (Section A., Summary, through Section N., Contact Information) shall be referenced through a "link" placed on every leading web page contained in Idaho.gov websites.

IDAHO.GOV PORTAL PRIVACY NOTICE

A. SUMMARY

The State of Idaho is dedicated to protecting private information it may collect about its citizens and others from unauthorized access and dissemination in concert with state and federal laws dealing with personal privacy. In order to guarantee a consistent statement of that responsibility, ITA has issued this policy with the accompanying Idaho.Gov Portal Privacy Notice:

"Thanks for visiting the Idaho.gov website. Our privacy policy is simple: we collect NO personal information (like names or addresses) when you visit our website. If you choose to provide that information to us, it is only used to fulfill your request for information or a service."

B. INFORMATION COLLECTED AND HOW IT IS USED

We do collect some technical information when you visit in order to make your visit seamless. The following section explains how we handle and collect technical information when you visit our website.

C. INFORMATION COLLECTED AND STORED AUTOMATICALLY

When you browse, read pages or download information on Idaho.gov, we automatically gather and store specific technical information about your visit. This information (listed below) never identifies who you are.

1. The Internet Protocol address and domain name used but not the email address. The Internet Protocol address is a numerical identifier assigned either to your Internet service provider or directly to your computer. We use the Internet Protocol address to download the pages you request to your computer;
2. The type of browser and operating system and the connection speed;
3. The date and time you visited this site;
4. The web pages or services you accessed at this site; and
5. The website you visited prior to coming to this website.

The information we automatically collect or store is used to improve the content of our web services and to help us understand how people are using our services. Access Idaho, Idaho.gov analyzes website logs to continually improve the value of the materials available on our sites. Website logs are not personally identifiable, and we make no attempt to link them with the individuals that browse Idaho.gov.

If, during your visit to Access Idaho, Idaho.gov, you participate in a survey or send an email to Idaho.gov, the following additional information will be collected:

1. Email Correspondence – The email address and contents of the email; and
2. Surveys – Any information you volunteered in response to a survey.

The information collected is not limited to text characters and may include audio, video, and graphic information formats you send us.

We use your email address to respond appropriately. This may be to reply to you, to address issues you identify, to further improve our website, or to forward the email to another agency for appropriate action. Survey information is used only for the purpose designated.

D. PERSONAL INFORMATION AND CHOICE

"Personal information" is information about an individual that is readily identifiable to that specific individual. Personal information includes personal identifiers, such as an individual's name, address, and phone number. Domain names and Internet Protocol addresses are not considered personal information.

We collect no personal information about you unless you voluntarily participate in an activity that asks for information (i.e. sending an email, applying for some type of license or permit, or participating in a survey). If you choose not to participate in these activities, your choice will in no way affect your ability to use any other feature of Idaho.gov.

If personal information is requested on the website or volunteered by the user, state law and the federal Privacy Act of 1974 may protect it. However, this information may become a public record once you provide it, and may be subject to public inspection and copying if not protected by federal or state law.

Users are cautioned that the collection of personal information requested from or volunteered by children online or by email will be treated the same as information given by an adult and may be subject to public access.

Children under the age of 13 are not eligible to use services that require submission of personal information and should not submit any personal information to us without the authorization of a parent or guardian. This includes submitting personal information to the website as part of a user profile or personalization profile.

If we gather personal information from a parent or guardian for a child under the age of 13 we will disclose the reasons for collecting it, and disclose our intended use of it. We will seek verifiable parental consent before collecting any personally identifiable information. Parents may request information on the type of data being collected, view their child's information, and, if they choose, prohibit us from making further use of their child's information. We will not provide personal information about children to third parties.

E. PUBLIC DISCLOSURE

In the State of Idaho, laws exist to ensure that government is open and that the public has a right to access appropriate records and information possessed by State government. At the same time, there are exceptions to the public's right to access public records that serve various needs: the privacy of individuals is included among these exceptions in both state and federal laws.

We strive to protect personally identifiable information (PII) by collecting only information necessary to deliver our services. All information collected at this site becomes a public record that may be subject to inspection and copying by the public, unless an exemption in law exists.

In the event of a conflict between this Idaho.Gov Portal Privacy Notice and the Idaho Open Records Law, or other laws governing the disclosure of records, the Idaho Open Records Law or other applicable laws will control.

F. ACCESS IDAHO PREMIUM SERVICE AND CUSTOMER INFORMATION FOR IDAHO.GOV

Access Idaho will collect, retain, and use business/personal information about its customers only when they volunteer to subscribe to an Access Idaho premium service. Business/personal information is only collected, retained, and used by Access Idaho where essential (and allowed by law) to administer its business, and to communicate with and provide products, services and other opportunities to its customers. Access Idaho reserves the right to retain all electronic correspondence (email) and any information contained therein.

Subscriber information will not be sold or rented to any outside company or organization. Access Idaho does not reveal specific information about subscribers or other personally identifiable data to unaffiliated third parties for their independent use, except if required to do so by law.

G. ACCESS AND CORRECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

You can review any personal information we collect about you. You may recommend changes to your personal information you believe is in error by submitting a written request that credibly shows the error. If you believe that your personal information is being used for a purpose other than what was intended when submitted, you may contact us. In all cases, we will take reasonable steps to verify your identity before granting access or making corrections. See Contact Information (section IV.N. in this document).

H. COOKIES

In order to better serve you, we use cookies for certain types of online transactions. Cookies are small text files that a web server may ask your web browser to store and to send back to the web server when needed. Cookies may be used to store a transaction identifier or other information a user may provide.

I. CHOICES ABOUT COOKIES

The "help" portion of the toolbar on most browsers will tell you how to prevent your browser from accepting new cookies or how to disable cookies altogether. However, cookies allow you to take full advantage of many of Idaho's eGovernment services, and we recommend that you set your web browser to accept cookies.

J. IDAHO.GOV PRACTICES REGARDING COOKIES

We do not use cookies to track your visit to our website.

Idaho.gov uses cookies for the following purposes:

1. When you sign in to a State website, a session cookie is used. For example, if you sign on to the Department of Labor section of Idaho.gov as a job seeker, the cookie enables the session to be maintained as you move through different pages, such as updating a multi-page resume or previewing and showing the resume posted. When an employer signs on, the cookies are used to establish the session state.

2. The information on these cookies is retained by the State only while the user's session is active in a table that lists unique identifiers.
3. Selected applications use “persistent cookies” to assist users in completing a session. The information on these cookies is retained by the State for a limited period of time and allows the user to continue a session if it is interrupted. An example of this would be a license renewal. If a session is interrupted, the user can return to their session without losing data previously entered. Persistent cookies are used only to assist a user in selected applications and are not used to collect information about the user for other purposes.

K. SECURITY

The Idaho Technology Authority (ITA) has put policies in place and taken several steps through the Office of Information Technology Services (ITS) to safeguard the integrity of its telecommunications and computing infrastructure, including, but not limited to, authentication, monitoring, auditing, and encryption. Security measures have been integrated into the design, implementation and day-to-day practices of the entire ITS operating environment as part of its continuing commitment to risk management.

This information should not be construed in any way as giving business, legal, or other advice, nor as warranting a fail-proof security of information provided through ITS supported websites.

L. DISCLAIMER

Idaho.gov has links to other websites, including some that are operated by other government agencies, nonprofit organizations, and private businesses. When you access another site, you are no longer on Idaho.gov, and this Idaho.Gov Portal Privacy Notice will not apply; you are subject to the privacy policy of that new site.

M. LEGAL NOTICES

Any trademarks that appear on this site are the property of their respective owners who may or may not be affiliated with, connected to, or sponsored by Idaho.gov.

Idaho.gov respects the rights of all copyright holders, and therefore, Idaho.gov has adopted and implemented a policy that provides for the termination in appropriate circumstances of users and account holders who infringe the rights of copyright holders. If you believe that your work has been used on this website or that another work has been used on this website in a way that constitutes copyright infringement, please provide Idaho.gov's Copyright Agent the following information required by the Online Copyright Infringement Liability Limitation Act of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. 512:

1. A physical or electronic signature of a person authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed;
2. Identification of the copyright work claimed to have been infringed, or, if multiple copyrighted works at a single online site are covered by a single notification, a representative list of such works at that site;
3. Identification of the material that is claimed to be infringing or to be the subject of infringing activity and that is to be removed or access to which is to be disabled, and information reasonably sufficient to permit us to locate the material;
4. Information reasonably sufficient to permit us to contact the complaining party;
5. A statement that the complaining party has a good-faith belief that use of the material in the manner complained of is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law; and
6. A statement that the information in the notification is accurate, and under penalty of perjury, that the complaining party is authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed.
