

Polyomino tilings of square : 1, 5, 216, 212987

The sequence gives the number of distinct tilings by polyominoes of a square with side n . As for “free” polyominoes, tilings that are reflections or rotations of each other are not considered distinct.

See also:

A000105 : Number of free polyominoes of size n

A268416 : Number of aligned free polyominoes that will fit in a square of size $n * n$

Just 1 distinct tiling of the $1*1$ square:

5 distinct tilings of the $2*2$ square:

On the following pages, the 216 distinct tilings of the $3*3$ square.

