Chapeau

Youth, the hope of tomorrow! Youth helps to develop the resilience of communities and stimulate progress!

Chapter I. Sustainable development and financing for development

Enviro-Action is a youth led not-profit organization that works to ensure Environmental sustainability everywhere in the world.

Global Enviro-Action's programs and activities aim to achieve SDG 13 - Climate Action, SDG 14 - Life Below Water, SDG 15 - Life on Land, SDG 7 -Affordable and Clean Energy, and SDG 6 - Clean water & Sanitation. Our mission is to preserve the environment by achieving UN Sustainable Development Goals at Global level.

Youth best understand the problems they face and can offer new ideas and alternative solutions. but that requires technical and financial support for youth to reach the goal!

Chapter II. International peace and security

"Peace begins with a smile". Young people can help to reduce tensions and prevent conflict, build peace during conflict, deliver humanitarian support, participate in post-conflict peace, and reconciliation processes.

Therefore, we respectfully request the strengthening of the meaningful participation of young people in peacebuilding, governance, protection of human rights, and the implementation of Sustainable Development Goals at national and global level.

Chapter III. Science, technology and innovation and digital cooperation

Innovations are providing advances for the evolution of our society, as caring for the preservation of the environment by reducing energy theats, as well as technology helps in addressing social and economic problems caused by our populations. It offers opportunities to young people to access learning and employment.

However, social media use can also negatively affect teens, disrupting their education. They need to be aware of the dangers and benefits of technology to make smart decisions when using technology. Therefore, we call on Global Leaders to include young people on raising multi-level awareness of the importance of technology and science, promoting and supporting technopreneurship.

Chapter IV. Youth and future generations

Young people have the capacity to learn and adapt to the environment and engage in partnerships and shared decision-making to achieve common goals. When their human rights are recognized, they can contribute to the resilience of the future. Their human rights must therefore be guaranteed and promoted!

Chapter V. Transforming global governance

Youth can bring social reform and improvement to society. We have confidence in their ability to contribute to the development of their community.

We also call on world leaders to strengthen the meaningful engagement of young people in decision-making, education and training, producing knowledge, raising awareness and mobilizing networks and partnerships, providing services and generating solutions to solve societal problems.
